Meeting Point is pianist, composer, and educator Roberto Verastegui's debut album as a leader. It features some of the most soulful and creative musicians in the Dallas/Ft. Worth area including Quamon Fowler on tenor sax, Jason Thomas and Matt Young on drums, Jacob Smith on bass and Li Xiaochuan on trumpet.

Meeting Point's blend of different musical and cultural backgrounds creates a fresh and unique sound that contains the tradition of Jazz and improvised modern music while pushing to find new ways for music to connect with people of various musical interests.

Meeting Point contains a creative mix of Verastegui's own compositions as well as compositions by Jazz giants John Coltrane, Wayne Shorter, and Tony Williams. Meeting Point focuses on the human part of music. In Verastagui's words "the concept is that if artists listen to each other, respect each others ideas, and are fearless of taking risks, the music will take on a life of its own. It is not about where I can take the music to anymore, but rather where the music needs to go."
